“ Unfortunately, I did not know the loving woman you describe. I saw "Mary Lynn" about once a year during our childhood years when my family would "drop in" at her parent's home in Bay City. Her father, Ky, was the youngest brother of Harmon Covell, who was the father of my Dad, Gerald Covell. After I left home in 1957, I was no longer present on those trips and did not see Mary Lynn or her siblings after that. My Dad always believed that "folks love it when you drop in for a visit"; my mother was not so sure! Since being in MN, I did exchange a couple of letters with Shirley. I apologized to her for our sudden visits because I knew that these must have been difficult for their mother (known as "Joanne") who was always home alone with the four children. Shirley told me that their lives had been hard and that both parents abused alcohol. She said that she and her siblings treasured our visits because it gave them the opportunity "to see what a normal, happy family was like". Although her childhood years were difficult, I am happy to learn that Mary had a good life and is being remembered so fondly. Any Covells who pass near Plymouth, MN ... are welcome to "drop in". Warmly, Carole Covell Rydberg

“ In Memory of my dearest Aunt Mary. Thank-you for all your Love toward my mother, your sister Diana and my dad and I all these years. You were a wonderful cook, a wonderful caregiver to all your family and Grandma Covell. You shared the family history of Grandma and Grandpa with me and had a wonderful sense of humor. You taught me about life and people and what to be aware of. I love you and always will treasure the times we spent together. You were like a mother to me after my mother passed on. Thank-you for your wisdom and spiritual knowledge and love for God. I will miss you but look forward to a reunion with you in heaven. You have earned your crown and carried your cross. God has called you home to be with Him. No more suffering, no more pain, only joy and Life Eternal. Enjoy your journey forward and don't forget us. We love you Aunt Mary. Love, Christie, Joseph, Rachel and David.

“ All my sympathies to Mary's family and friends. She was the most loving, kind, and generous person that I think I have ever known. I feel very privileged that she was my sister-in-law. May God rest her soul. Lovingly, Bill George
