How do you convey a man's whole life in and condense it into few words?

My father was a firm but fair man who taught me to anticipate my fellow man's needs and to give of yourself without being asked because he knew we are prideful by nature and hate to be dependent on others and as it was he was the biggest offender seldomly asking for help himself, he taught me how to be self sufficient, to be the giver not the taker. he had a love of animals I guess because they needed help the most well all except squirrels he saw them as takers when he would feed the birds! My father never turned away from a challenge two of his favorite quotes were "hey it's already broken cant make it any worse" and when asked how he felt or if he needed anything his reply was always "I'm not a complainer"

In short my father was a good man who always looked out for his family friends and his fellow man he will be sorely missed in a time when the world needs men like him more than ever! He taught us many lessons and was a great example to follow and now with his departing challenges us all to follow his charitable nature and to anticipate others needs before our own .RIP dad I hope I make you proud

“ My Godfather..... The world is now so different without you here with us. Seems so cruel life would go on without you. I can't describe the place you have held in my heart my whole life. A "Father of Fathers". Strong, Direct, No BS, but with a heart golder than gold. Your advice was like scripture to me. i will never say goodbye uncle..... Can't wait until we are together again.What a great obit.! Good job Ricky! Hi Ann Marie & Fam. Godmother, I love you dearly, praying with concern for you daily. I am so proud of you and Uncle. “ A FEATHERY PALM PLANT was sent on March 28, 2019God looked down and saw his tired face. Putting His arms around him He lifted him to rest. The road was rough and hills harder to climb. So He closed his weary eyes and whispered "Peace be thine." Blessings, Rose & Sam D.
